ARE IN CONTROL OF CONVENTIONREGULAR REPUBLICANS MUCH IN EVIDENCE AT OPENING SESSION.

DICK WROTE THE PLATFORM

Longworth Was Temporary Chairman and Burton the Permanent Presiding Officer.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Columbus, Ohio, July 27.—Temporary Chairman Longworth called the republican state convention to order this morning at 9:55. The credential committee reported no contests and Senator Burton took the chair as permanent chairman. This gives the convention over entirely to the regular republicans and makes all hopes of the Garfield faction void as far as any handling of the business of the session.

Before the convention opened all of the candidates for the gubernatorial nomination except Garfield appeared.

Aged 91.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., July 27.—Andrew J. Swenson, an early Madison pioneer died today as the result of a stroke of paralysis last Friday, on his ninety-first birthday. He came to Madison when the Indians inhabited the site and had their confidence in a great degree, assisting them in their money dealings with early settlers. The old judge of the Supreme court were his friends.

SERIOUS STRIKE
THREATENS FRANCEEngineers and Firemen of National Railroads' Union Demand Increase in Wages.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, July 27.—France today appears to be on the eve of the most colossal strike that the country ever has witnessed in recent years. The engineers and firemen affiliated with the National Railroads' Union are to meet tomorrow to reach a final decision on the action of the central committee of the union, which has already decided on a general strike. The workers demand an increase in wages and a number of minor concessions in regard to the conditions of labor.

THIRD PARTY IN
KEYSTONE STATEConvention at Philadelphia Tomorrow
Will Nominate Independent Ticket For November Election.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, July 27.—The political situation in Pennsylvania, already intensely interesting, will be rendered even more so when a third party is given birth at the state convention to be held here tomorrow. The convention proposes to nominate independent candidates for the state offices to be filled at the November election and will work hard to defeat both the regular republican and democratic tickets. Delegates to the convention are already putting in an appearance from all parts of the state and from present indications the convention will be well attended.

Since the plan for an independent ticket was first launched by the group of men who have been prominent in previous reform movements in Pennsylvania it has gathered recruits among republicans and democrats alike over the state. The demand for an independent ticket is based on the declaration that the recent republican and democratic conventions for governor men "who do not in any way represent the sentiment of the voters of their respective parties," and that "neither nominee has in any conspicuous manner demonstrated by his career that he is a fit and competent man to become the chief executive of the second greatest Commonwealth of the Union."

Pennsylvania this year will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary and treasurer. The republicans nominated Congressman Charles K. Tener of Washington County for governor, and the democrats named Webster Grim of Bucks County. The sponsors of the independent movement allege that both nominations were dictated by state machines in utter disregard of the wishes of the rank and file of the two parties.

FRICTION EXISTS IN
WESTINGHOUSE CO.Outcome Of Annual Meeting Of Stockholders At Pittsburgh To-row Awaited With Interest.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 27.—Financial and industrial circles are awaiting with keen interest the outcome of today's annual meeting of the stockholders of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company and the directors' meeting that will follow for the election of officers. It is an open secret that strong interests are at work to depose George Westinghouse from the presidency and that Mr. Westinghouse is equally determined to maintain his place at the head of the concern, having cancelled his proposed summer trip to Europe in anticipation of a fight at the annual meeting.

Following the receipt of the company, which was terminated in 1908, Robert Mather was elected to the newly created office of the chairman of the executive committee of the Westinghouse Electric Company, Mr. Westinghouse retaining the presidency. The reorganization of the company was brought about by the banking and manufacturing creditors, and since the termination of the receivership those interests have been dominant. Mr. Mather, as the representative of the banking interests in control of the company, according to common report, the continued role of President Westinghouse in the affairs of the company a source of friction. The situation became critical a year ago, but the climax was averted by Mr. Westinghouse consenting to take a six months' trip to Europe. His subsequent change of mind and his determination to remain at the helm has again brought matters to a showdown and it is predicted that the annual meeting will develop into a fight to a finish to decide who shall dominate in the future management of the great corporation.

IOWA DEMOCRATS IN
A SOLEMN CONCLAVECandidate For Governor Is Insistent
He Is Going To Be Elected.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Ottumwa, Ia., July 27.—Addressing the democratic convention today, Claude R. Porter, the democratic candidate for governor, expressed his confidence in his own election and attacked the Taft administration and cited speeches from republican senators and congressmen of Iowa in support of his declaration the republican promised to reduce tariff had not been carried out.

The platform denounces the republican tariff act as a masterpiece of injustice and declares the tariff fosters trusts and combinations. It favors criminal prosecution of individuals instead of corporations for violation of federal statutes. It favors a fair and just regulation of rates, railways, telephones and telegraphs. It charges republicans with reckless expenditure of revenues. It favors the popular election of senators and favors an income tax.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. William Meacher. Mrs. William Meacher of Portage, Wis., passed away suddenly at three o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Francis C. Grant, 303 Cornelia street, following an operation for acute appendicitis. Mrs. Meacher was taken suddenly ill last Friday. She was operated on Saturday morning at Palmer Memorial Hospital by Dr. Andrews of Chicago, assisted by Dr. Slippy of Chicago, Dr. Hally of Portage, and Dr. W. A. Mum of this city. Mrs. Meacher was in her seventy-seventh year. Present at the time of her death were her other children, Dr. Byron C. Meacher, Mrs. Charles H. Smith of Portage, and Mrs. E. H. Taylor of Stevens Point; and Charles H. Smith and William A. Taylor. The funeral will be held at Portage.

James Lincoln. James Lincoln, one of the pioneer settlers of Rock County, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Franklin, two miles east of the Union on Tuesday. Mr. Lincoln was born in England eighty-six years ago and came to the United States as a young boy settling in New York state. Some forty-five years ago he removed to Wisconsin making his home in the town of Union. His wife died five years ago and since her death he has made his home with his adopted daughter, Mrs. Franklin. Another adopted son, John Wall, also lives in the town of Union and a third adopted child is married and lives in New York city. Mr. Lincoln was beloved by all who knew him and his funeral, which will be held Thursday at 2:30 at the Union church, will be largely attended. The burial will be at the Evansville cemetery.

Abiel Allen. Abiel Allen, for more than fifty years past a resident of Rock county, died at the home of E. B. Wilcox in the town of Harmony at half past two o'clock this morning. The deceased had been ill for the last ten months. Funeral services will be conducted from the Wilcox home in the town of Harmony at two o'clock Thursday afternoon.

MAY BEGIN SCHOOL LATER THAN USUAL

Monroe Board of Education Considering Postponing Opening a Week on Account of Fair.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Monroe, Wis., July 27.—The board of education is confronted with the proposition of opening school a week later this fall and carrying the spring term a week farther into next June owing to a change made in the date of holding the Green county fair. It has been customary to open school the Monday following the fair, but this year the fair comes a week later and if the schools wait until after the fair it will mean another week in June. There is a demand here for a longer school year and there is no thought of shortening up the present school year of a little less than nine months.

Local News.

Senator Edward T. Fairchild, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, was in Green county yesterday, making an auto run to Monticello, New Glarus, Albany and Brodhead and returning to Monroe for an evening meeting. Two automobiles of local supporters accompanied him on his tour of the county.

James Michalski of Brodhead ran to catch a departing freight train and after the train left he was found with his right foot cut off. The severed limb was bound up and he was taken to Milwaukee, yesterday, for an operation of amputation. He is forty years old and unmarried. The freight train is known as No. 166, arriving in Janesville each evening at about ten o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Manning of Janesville, were in the city yesterday and sold their building in the Syndicate block on West Washington street to James Jones. The building will be leased to M. C. Gettings, who conducts a meat market on the ground floor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Young and son of New York are here for an indefinite stay while Mr. Young is recovering from rheumatism from which he has suffered for several months. Mr. Young is managing editor of Temptation's magazine.

Robert A. Bitter is very seriously ill at his home, although his condition was better today. There was some congestion of the right lung, which alarmed the family, but this is cleared up with prospects that he will continue to improve.

The Carver wild west show passed through Janesville yesterday enroute from Madison to Dubuque.

Mrs. Nellie Brock of Vineland, Cal., and Mrs. W. R. Hall of Brodhead, were in the city yesterday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gifford. Mrs. Brock is on her way home after a four months' stay in Europe.

Mrs. M. O. Luchinsinger of Brodhead, and Mrs. Casper Altman of New Glarus, were here on a visit to their mother, Mrs. Jacob Luchinsinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bradley have returned to their home in Janesville after a visit to relatives here.

Mayor W. J. Knight has gone to Milwaukee, B. D.

J. D. Dunwiddie was at Brodhead and Avon yesterday.

John North Adams of Freeport is the guest of her sisters here.

Mrs. Henry King and son have returned to their home at Virginia, Minn., after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fitzgibbons.

The Misses Edna Kloster and Alvin Olson are spending the week with friends at Brodhead.

FREIGHT TRAIN IS DITCHED

SYMPATHIZERS OF GRAND TRUNK UNIONISTS ARE BLAMED FOR DERAILMENT.

PASSENGER CREW IS MOBBED

Trainmen Are Led to Safety by South Bend Police Through Jeering Crowds—Several Shots Fired But Nobody Hurt.

South Bend, Ind., July 27.—The chief happenings here in the Grand Trunk railroad strike was an attack by a mob on a freight train, which was eventually derailed and an unsuccessful attempt to kidnap a non-union passenger crew.

Angry crowds numbering from 500 to 2,000 persons were gathered at the Grand Trunk station throughout the day, and the police had to be on the alert every minute to prevent outbreaks of mob violence.

The wrecking of the freight train was forecast by the strike sympathizers when the half dozen cars, heavily loaded with emergency freight and under a heavy guard of special officers, left South Bend. The crew, on the lookout for danger of derailment, met with no accident until the town of Kingsbury, 25 miles west of here, was reached.

Reports from that place say the train was not near the station by a big mob of sympathetic friends of the strikers, who derailed the cars and then rolled them all into the ditch along the right of way. Reports which could not be verified had it that the members of the freight train's crew were roughly handled, but not dangerously injured.

Railroad officials in South Bend rushed help to the stranded train crew at once and notified the county authorities to take steps to protect their property. It was discovered that a number of spikes had been pulled from the rails, which lay loose on the ties when the train struck them and went into the ditch. All traffic in both directions was tied up by the wreck for many hours.

Mob Plans to Kidnap Crew.

The attack on the non-union crew occurred when passenger train No. 13, due at 6:40 p. m., arrived. The police learned that the strike sympathizers had a plan arranged whereby the freight train was to be kidnaped. Long before the arrival of the train fully 2,000 friends of the strikers were at the station waiting and several scores of police and special officers were hurried to the station to protect the men coming in.

Despite the heavily armed police which lined the tracks as the passenger train pulled into the station the mob made a rush for the train, and the police were pressed so close to the cars that they could do little to protect themselves or the crew from the charge. Several shots were fired by persons in the crowd, and one man, believed to have been armed, was seized by the police. The crowd stopped down among the baggage room of the station.

Crowds Threaten Trains.

The police later released the man under arrest and the members of the train crew were taken one at a time to their boarding places under a heavy guard of police.

Big crowds of strike sympathizers paraded the streets late at night, while hundreds kept watch at the railway station, threatening to prevent any attempt to send out other trains.

Fifteen strikers employed in the yards of the Grand Trunk railroad here quit their jobs because, they said, they were worn out with being on guard day and night against possible attack by strikers and strike sympathizers.

Inspector Shane of the Indiana railroad commission said that only six of the strikers remained in South Bend, and that all the trouble of the last few days had been made by sympathizers.

Unwilling to Discourage.

It is related of Goldwin Smith that, when at Cornell, an ambitious student, with a superabundance of "college spirit," approached him with the query: "How long will it take for Cornell to become equal to Oxford?" Professor Smith, unwilling to discourage the youth, and not wishing to treat him with levity, solemnly replied: "Probably about 500 years." This story is still current at Cornell.

"THE MACHINE" The Eldredge "OF MERIT"

Divested of all "flowery" and "book" language—eliminating all exaggerations, and speaking straight from the shoulder—the fact remains, that the "Eldredge", in its twenty-eight years of existence, "FACTS has fairly won its present title of "The Machine of Merit." Machines have come and gone—freak models, with their bold if indefinite claims of superiority, have sprung on the public only to find their natural end—oblivion. Through it all the "Eldredge" has steadily forged ahead until it now occupies a position well in the front ranks and is a recognized leader of high class, dependable machines throughout the country. Just think of it, over one million of "Eldredge" machines in active use today and not a dissatisfied owner in the lot. Can you afford to ignore the living, breathing testimony of this army of "Eldredge" users when making your selection of a sewing machine? No, emphatically, no.

Washington, D. C.—The national capital is to be honored by the visits of a president and president-elect of two sister republics of South America. President Monatt of Chile is due to arrive here August 1, and preparations are being made by the state department for his entertainment.

President Monatt sailed from Chile for Europe via Panama and New York. He will spend only a short time in the United States and will not have time to see either President Taft or ex-President Roosevelt. A letter of greeting will be presented to him by the state department from President Taft. Marshal Hermes Da Fonseca, the president-elect of Brazil, who will arrive in New York early in August to spend a month in the United States, will go into office November 15. He was elected March 2, by a very large plurality over his opponent, Dr. Roy Barbosa. Marshal Fonseca has had a large experience in the political life of Brazil, and at one time was minister of war. His purpose in coming to the United States is to acquaint himself with general conditions in this country and to pay a friendly visit to the men at the head of the national government. He will first call upon President Taft at Beverly, and then upon Secretary Knox at Valley Forge, and afterward will visit some of the principal cities.

President-elect Fonseca's visit is considered an event of importance at the national capital. For four years he will be at the head of a nation that is making very rapid progress, and is approaching the status of a world power. The diplomatic relations between the United States and Brazil

Chinese Egg Market.

China is ahead of the times in the method of selling eggs. There "hen fruit" is not sold by the piece or dozen, but by the pound. The reason why eggs are not bought by the piece are the labor of counting such large numbers and the disputes over the count, inseparable from such a method where millions of eggs are involved in a single deal.

A CLEAN CITY.
According to a reputable physician of Janesville there is danger of a serious epidemic unless the alleys and many yards in the residential districts are not cleaned of noxious refuse and kept clean. Alderman Buchholz presented a motion to this effect in the last council meeting but owing to the many important matters that were being considered it was overlooked. It is the city health officer's duty to see to this and it should be attended to at once. There is a state law which gives this official exceedingly liberal powers and also city ordinances on the same subject so that he should feel no hesitancy in compelling property owners to clean up. Should he meet with any opposition in his orders he will have all the backing he wants, both legal and otherwise. Clean up and keep Janesville clean. Then "You'll succeed in Janesville."

CO-OPERATION NEEDED.
Janesville business and professional men have organized the Industrial and Commercial club of the city and Secretary DeArmand is busy with correspondence relative to new industries and the boosting of the present Janesville products in new markets. It is the starting of a great work and one in which every citizen of Janesville should take a hand. From time to time the secretary of the association asks for certain information relative to Janesville and its industries and persons having this desired information should aid the work of handling it to him as soon as possible. Get together and boost the good work along and "You'll succeed in Janesville."

GOOD ROADS PROBLEM.
The problem of good roads is taking on an aspect which is positively alarming, but which for this very reason, paradoxical though it may seem, is full of promise. Roads are now being repaired faster than they are being ruined. Old roads are being put out of use faster than new roads are being built. The very conditions which in our time are leading to a demand for the return of the country roads of other days are operating to retard the restoration. But the causes are not merely obvious; they are removable. The roads of the stage coach and country wagon days will not do for those times. The top dressing is wearing off the roads built during the last fifty years. They are showing ruts. The macadam is being ground down to the dust; the dust is rising to the surface. Roads that were good five years ago are bad today. Something must be done in the way of reconstructing them, and this must be done in a skillful manner and on a large scale.

Manifestly the states will have to undertake the job. The revenue from automobile licenses in several of the states has grown already to large proportions. It will grow to larger proportions still as the use of the new vehicle for business and for pleasure becomes more popular and more general. This revenue should, and doubtless will, be employed exclusively in road making and in road repairing, but the main point now is that in anticipation of it a sufficient amount of money may be borrowed to do the work far in advance of its collection. It is necessary and urgent that much of this work be done at once, in order that roads which are still in fair condition may be saved. But it has seemed to be necessary and urgent, also, that the matter should take on an alarming aspect in order that it might command the serious attention it deserves.

NEW APPORTIONMENT.

The present membership of the national house of representatives is 391, a number conceded by all thoughtful persons to be too large for the accomplishment, expeditiously and efficiently, of the work which the popular branch of congress is expected to perform. It is expected that the census of 1910 will show a gain in population which will add sixty-eight to this number. To increase the ratio so that the numerical representation of some of the states may be cut down, it is believed in many quarters, would be to invite serious opposition. On the other hand, it will not do, evidently, to permit the continued growth of the house membership. The house already is unwieldy, and its size, it is claimed, is blamable for many faults in its organization and management against which there is so much complaint.

Hostility in correcting an evil through independence to disturb existing conditions, or because of dissatisfaction which might result from the adoption of a right course, is responsible for the state of things which must be faced, now or later. Before 1790 the ratio of membership was 30,000, and the membership of the house was 65. By 1850 the ratio had grown to 93,423, and the membership to 227. In 1900 the ratio was advanced to 194,182, and the membership was placed at its present number. Only once, in 1840, was the basis of representation changed so as to cut down the house membership. During the decade which followed the house had ten members less than during the preceding decade.

The necessity for action which will reduce the membership to a satisfactory working basis seems to be recognized by all informed on the subject. State and sectional selfishness, wherever it exists, naturally will continue to demand greater rather than smaller representation. Patriotism, a high recognition and respect for the best interests of the country will dictate another view. The first essential of all, however, is that the matter shall be approached courageously and determinedly by conscientious leaders in both parties. If a firm stand shall be taken concession and compromise and public opinion will do the rest.

Under the present primary law politics have reached the commercial era in Wisconsin. Look at Ohio, Nebraska and other states that still enjoy the state convention system and see how they fight matters out before the convention and then join hands with a united party front to face the common political enemy.

Citizens generally should take warning of the extreme dry condition of everything and watch carefully against fire. Grass fires often become dangerous and spread rapidly and care should be taken that they do not start.

Evidently the Nebraska democrats have determined that Mr. Bryan is not the political Moses he thought he was and has posed to be all these years when they gave him such a sudden jolt yesterday.

Ohio was true to Taft and the republican principles. True, Garfield was able to accomplish something but it is doubtful if the insurgents get more than a peek in at the door at the present gathering.

Taft is still sailing away into the unknown regions of the great northwest and his constituents in the state of Maine are rejoicing at the opportunity of entertaining their president.

Chicago boasts of its summer climate and then announces through its newspapers that it is the hottest city in the United States. Also advertisement is it not?

The epidemic of going away for the summer vacation is in full blast and still the politicians wonder why people are not interested in their talk for office.

Pittsburg's determination to banish smoke may yet result in changing its popular nickname from the "Smoky city" to the "Blue Sky city."

A True American.
"I love the rose, the violet," said he, with twinkling eye. "I love the bush of early morn and the tinted twilight sky. I love the poetry of life—its charms I won't deny—but there's nothing I love so much as a good big hunk of pie."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS.

Little Sammy Elster of New York ran away from home. A search was made by the police, the newspapers printed the story, and the mother wept for her boy.

Nothing new?
No; small boys run away from home every little while.

In Sammy's case there was a reason—he wanted his hair cut like papa's. His mother compelled him to wear long hair and dressed him in "little Lord Fauntleroy" style. Not being that sort of boy, he revolted and ran away.

Probably he has returned ere this, following sundry adventures. If so, you may be certain the curls have disappeared.

He was doubtless received after the true honored custom of receiving prodigal sons.

And his mother knows more. There are many ways by which you can make miserable the life of a real boy.

One of them, which is to treat him as if he were a baby, is the refinement of cruelty.

To dress up a manly little kid in a manner markedly different from that of his fellows and turn him loose among them is to subject the poor boy to merciless persecution.

The other boys ask no better fun than to jibe at him in the street vernacular, call him a "sissy boy," pull his curls, blacken his eyes and rub his nose in the mud.

A youngster has hard enough time in the republic of boyville to adapt himself to democratic treatment without suffering the handicap put upon him by the fad of a bond and foolish mother.

And the boy who will willingly submit to be fussed over and made to pose as a young aristocrat probably has something the matter with him.

Better see the doctor.

Or if he submits unwillingly and has in him the making of a man take him down to the corner and leave him with a few active hustlers of his own size and age.

He will probably come back whipped and crying, but demanding that he be dressed like other boys. Put plain tags on him and turn him loose again.

He may come back from the corner whipped, but not crying. He will take his punishment like a man.

Boys will be boys, not babies.

When Sammy protests that he wants his hair cut short, better send him to the barber shop.

I bought a hundred books today, and one was fit to read. The others turned my whiskers gray, and made my bosom bleed. I'm weary of the "grip-plug" tales you find in magazines, whose hawk-faced hero seldom fails to save some Zenda queen. I'm weary of the "fital" book that treats of marks and whims, or gives the heart-throbs of a cook, or flounders bums. I'm sick of stories "true to life," which give minute detail of how some fellow beat his wife, and spent

In your in jail. I'm tired of those detective tales which spring some lifeless chry, in order that a Sherlock Holmes may make a grandstand play. O men and brothers! Is it true that novelists should teach? I'm tired of all the dreary crew who preach, and preach, and preach! MILLIONAIRE PHILANTHROPIST WORRIED BY CALLS FOR MONEY. DAVID RANKEN, JR.

St. Louis.—The most worried man in all the city of St. Louis is David Ranken, Jr., millionaire philanthropist and founder of the great Ranken Trade school. The grand army of cranks who live in all parts of the country are just beginning to find him out and write him long, pitiful and threatening letters.

In spite of the fact that he is a millionaire and a hard-scoured veteran of the business world, they have made him afraid. He locks the door of his narrow little office to keep them out while he is transacting his daily affairs. He hurries along the street and through the hallways to avoid them, and they try to ambush him in the elevators and along the corridors.

Within the last two weeks he has received over 2,000 letters begging and pleading for money. He has grown to dread the arrival of the mail carrier as the debtor dreads the coming of the bill collector. Every mail brings between 50 and 75 requests for financial aid, many of them genuine, others and the greater number of them typical begging letters that are familiar to every rich man's mail.

David Ranken, Jr., is one of the rich men of St. Louis of whom little has been known. He has gone steadily ahead for the last 25 years piling up a great private fortune, and his one great passion in life has been the founding of a magnificent school of the mechanical trades where boys and young men might learn to do an honest day's work with their hands. He has avoided publicity all the 76 years of his busy life. A couple of weeks ago he announced that he expected to turn over all his private fortune except a few hundred dollars yearly to the maintenance and enlargement of the Ranken Trade school. His statement was copied all over the United States, and in a few days the advance guard of the begging letters began to burden his mail.

NOTABLE WEDDINGS TOOK PLACE TODAY

Kohlsaat-Shepard Nuptials in Chicago—Davidson-Middleton Marriages at Washington, D. C. (SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Chicago, July 27.—Today's wedding of Miss Katherine Kohlsaat and Roger B. Shepard of St. Paul, proved to be one of the most notable events of the Chicago season. The bride is a daughter of Herman H. Kohlsaat, of the Record-Herald, and Mrs. Kohlsaat. Her sister is married to Potter Palmer, Jr. The bridegroom is a grand son on the maternal side of the late United States Senator Samuel J. McKim and a son of Frank Parsons Shepard, who has long been prominently associated in the railroad enterprises of James J. Hill.

Davidson-Middleton Wedding, Washington, D. C., July 27.—The wedding of Miss Edith Virginia Middleton, daughter of the late Rear Admiral Edward Middleton, U. S. A., and E. Nora Davidson, of New York, attracted a large and fashionable assemblage to St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal church today. Mr. Davidson and his bride are cousins.

All in 1,000 Ounces.
Harper's Weekly is responsible for the statement that in 1,000 ounces of gold there are 900 ounces of pure gold, 10 ounces of silver, 90 of copper, and about three tons of joy, a large farm, two automobiles, six fashionable bonnets and plans for a country home.

Preferred Life to Leg.
To save his life from an approaching train C. H. Vandecar, a Michigan Central brakeman, pulled his leg out of its socket and broke his ankle in the attempt to throw his body from the rails. Vandecar was switching at Denmark Junction the other morning when his leg became caught between the crossing plank and the rail. He could not release it and the approaching train bore down on him with just enough time to allow him to give the captured leg a tremendous wrench for freedom.

FOOLED THE DOCTOR

I make elegant gold and porcelain bridge work.
So natural that it will almost defy detection.
I once put in some white crowns for a young man who later underwent an examination for enlistment in the army.
The examining surgeon looked his mouth over carefully, but failed to detect that he had four artificial crowns in his mouth.
I put the joint way up under the gums out of sight.
My prices also you will find are incomparable compared to what you have paid heretofore.
Let me see your mouth.

JUSTICE AND LOCAL ATTORNEY CLASH IN CASE AT EDGERTON

Atty. William Smith, Representing Liquor Dealers on Trial and Justice North of Edgerton, Have Argument.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Edgerton, Wis., July 27.—After a clash between Attorney William Smith and Justice North in the case of the City of Edgerton against William and August Stricker, who were charged with selling a case of beer to Mrs. Klemmehagen, in violation of the city ordinance, Justice North ordered the defendants to pay a fine of $25 and costs amounting to over sixty dollars and Attorney Smith notified the justice that he would appeal the case to the circuit court. Attorney L. B. Gottle represented the city in the trial. At the outset the attorneys got into an argument as to whether or not the complaint and warrant had been issued legally, but the court ruled in favor of the plaintiff. Attorney Smith called for a jury and the justice directed the jury to draw up a list of names for the selection of a jury. Atty. Gottle then made a motion to have the defendants pay the jury fees in advance and the justice sustained this motion, but Atty. Smith refused to either pay the fees or to plead the case in justice court. Public opinion is aroused over the liquor question in this city and much interest is taken in the final outcome of this case. It is generally thought that an attempt will be made to prove that the city ordinance, which prohibits the sale of intoxicants to a woman, is unconstitutional.

SERIOUS WRECK ON THE HEBRON CURVE

Caboose on Milk Train Out of Walworth Jumped Rails and Tore Up Track for Long Distance.
The caboose on a C. & St. P. milk train leaving Walworth at three o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped the rails on the Hebron curve, about eighteen miles below that point, and pulling several of the rear cars off with it, tore up the track for a considerable distance before the train could be brought to a stop. There were three cars of condensed milk and three cars of ice in the group. The conductor and a brakeman were in the caboose and sustained serious, though not permanent injuries. A temporary track had to be built to get the train clear and other freights and passengers due to pass over the same route were delayed for several hours. No. 131, due here at 10:25 this morning, was fifty minutes late on that account.

A MOST REMARKABLE RECORD.

Since our Miss Ross started her campaign in the interest of "Jersey Lily Flour" she has sold more than 2000 sacks of flour. We stated that we would refund the purchase price if the flour was not as represented, but up to date we have to receive the first complaint. This of course we expected, as we know the quality of our goods. On several occasions we were asked to produce a cheaper grade of flour and this could only be accomplished by mixing with soft wheat. We declined preferring to keep our flour in a high state of perfection. It was this policy which has kept the brand of "Jersey Lily" before the people for over 25 years, and consequently we were never obliged to change the name, a condition which exists among very few millers. It would be well to bear this in mind. Unfortunately the wheat market advanced and it became necessary to advance the wholesale price of flour $1.00 per barrel, shortly after we started our Miss Ross in Janesville, but in order to give all an opportunity to try our flour we held the price at $1.50 until the 20th of the present month. On today's market it should be sold at $1.75. It is very gratifying to know that our Miss Ross was pleasantly received by the ladies of Janesville, and we trust adding your experience to that of Miss Ross will become a regular user of Jersey Lily Flour. Jonathan Brown, Janesville, Minnesota.

CORRECTING AN ERROR.

Mistakes will happen in advertising, as in anything else, and when they do happen, often times starts things moving at a lively pace.

Yesterday's issue, Reiberg & Co. were quoted as offering any $2.50 oxford from regular stock at $1.55. This was an error and should have read, "Any $2.50 oxford from regular stock at $1.55."

From the confusion at Reiberg's store today it would seem that most every woman in town attended the sale and many wanted this particular bargain.

Miss Edna Brundage of This City Married to Clarence Nowack of Clinton This Morning.

This morning at eight o'clock at St. Mary's church, Rev. Fr. Wm. A. Goebel performed the ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Edna May Brundage of this city, and Clarence H. Nowack of Clinton. The bride was becomingly attired in a beautiful gown of cream silk with pink and gold trimmings, and carried a white prayer book and a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas. She was attended by Miss Agnes Jefferson and Miss Loretta Ashley, while Joseph Brundage, the bride's brother, and Lew Mayberry of Clinton, acted as groomsmen. Following the ceremony the wedding party went to the home of the bride's parents on Oakland avenue, where only the relatives and a few of the most intimate friends of the couple participated in an elaborate wedding breakfast. As she reached the steps leading into the house the bride turned and threw her bouquet, which was caught by Miss Marjorie McGregor. The decorations at the home were very pretty and those at the bride's table, being principally in cream and white, above the table, hung a basket of pink and white sweet peas and from this to the corners of the table white and pink ribbons were twisted. Shortly after noon the bride slipped quietly away to her room and donned a travelling suit of soft white wool with a large white hat. Just as she was descending the stairs a large touring car drove up in front of the residence and before the astonished guests had realized the situation the bride party had entered the car and were driven away, fulfilling the well made plans of friends to give them a rousing farewell at the depot. A reception is to be given in their honor at the home of the groom's sister in Chicago. After a honeymoon trip of about two weeks the couple will go to honeymooning in a nicely furnished home in Clinton.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brundage, 1323 Oakland avenue, and is a young lady held in the highest esteem by her many friends. The groom is one of the reliable and highly respected young business men of Clinton, owner of a harness shop at that place. The bride received many handsome gifts of cut glass, silver, linen and furniture.

Was Injured at the Turtle Bridge on July 3, and Now Sues the Town Board of That Township.

RACINE MAN STARTS SUIT AGAINST TOWN

Was Injured at the Turtle Bridge on July 3, and Now Sues the Town Board of That Township.
Saul Hans of Racine has brought suit against the town of Turtle in the sum of $4,000 for injuries sustained in an automobile accident July 3, due to the defective condition of the road. Mr. Hans, his wife and driver were all more or less injured at the time of the accident, their machine plunging down from the bridge into a depression in the road left by the bulldozers, and Hans was thrown through the glass windshield and his wife out of the machine. They were on their way to Rockford to spend the Fourth and were taken to the Deloit hospital.

HAPPY COMPANY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

Some Fifty Enjoyed Club Supper at the Links Last Evening and Hop in Evening Was Great Success.

Fifty members of the Country club and visitors enjoyed the weekly supper at the Links last evening and a hop in evening was a great success. A good sized company remained for the hop which followed. Carter & Meunier of dance numbers a splendid program of dance numbers and the moon and electrical storm which illumined Janesville and moved far to the southwest were "acclaimed" exceptionally pleasing. Among the out-of-town guests were: Miss Bonnie Abbott and Victor Whitten of Chicago, Miss Leonore Meinhardt of Burlington, Wis., and Avery Dudley of Ann Arbor, Mich.

DRY WEATHER DOING CONSIDERABLE HARM

George J. Kellogg Writes to the Gazette of Effect of Heat on the Growing Crops.

Lake Mills, Wis., July 25.
Editor Gazette:
The weather holds hot and dry, though a quarter of an inch of rain Saturday night, relieved everything. But the days are windy and hot and it needs heavy rains to revive potatoes and corn. Since June 11th the thermometer has been 80 and upwards every day but two, and fully half the time it has been 90 and upwards days to 100.

Mr. A. Woddy told me yesterday that for his silo, which will carry his herd of dairy cows to November, his flow of milk would be less than half. We must have rain or corn will be a failure.

I have just received a program of the summer meeting of the State Horticultural society at Oconomowoc, August 17, one day, commencing at 9:30 a. m. A full list of the premiums and program is given, which can be had of Secretary P. Cranefield, Madison, headquarters at "Glen House."

Mrs. M. S. Kellogg of Belle Cottage nursery, Janesville, Wis., and Lucy and Ben, have returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George J. Kellogg.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Helmstreet of Palmyra have been visiting his son, C. S. Helmstreet, and family.

Mrs. George Strong, son and daughter are at Tomahawk, Wis., at their summer cottage, and Miss Blanche Douglas is with them for a few weeks. Mrs. Sushorn of Madison is with her mother, Mrs. E. Stone, and sister, Mrs. A. W. Greenwood, who spent Saturdays and Sundays here at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones went to the Port today for a visit.

GEORGE J. KELLOGG.

FAIRCHILD SPEAKS HERE ON THURSDAY

Milwaukee Candidate for Governor Will Address First Political Rally of the Year.

State Senator E. T. Fairchild of Milwaukee, one of the republican candidates for the gubernatorial nomination, will be in Janesville tomorrow and will speak in the Court House, weather permitting, and otherwise the meeting will be held in the West Side rink. The imperial band will give a concert before and after the address. As this is the first band concert for two years, if the weather is fine it will prove a big drawing card and many will doubtless avail themselves of the opportunity not only of hearing Senator Fairchild speak, but also of enjoying the music of the band. Senator Fairchild is a strong speaker and his addresses in the other cities he has thus far visited in the southwest, earned considerable attention. It is the first political rally of the present campaign and this fact will bring many to the open air meeting.

BAND TOURNAMENT IN SESSION TODAY

Eight Bands From Six Cities Hold Gathering in Evansville This Year.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Evansville, July 26.—Evansville has had music today if it never had any before. With eight bands from six cities, two ball games and a giant parade, the town is gayly decorated and made everywhere it is gala day. This morning at ten o'clock the big parade, headed by E. H. Morrison and O. C. Goodenough as marshals, the procession was formed. Directly behind the marshals came Miss Laura Morrison driving a chariot. Then came twenty young ladies on horse back and then the "Hellebelle Ladies" band. Various industries had floats in the procession and the bands from Deloit, Brookfield, Albany, New Glarus and Evansville followed. In fact, Evansville had three bands in the parade, its regular band and two improvised ones. One a German band and the other a negro minstrel organization. It was a grand parade and the music furnished was excellent. Then came the first band game of the day between the teams of the Baker Manufacturing Company and the Barbers and Butchers' team. The latter won by a score of 11 to 4. The battery for the latter team was Leo and Allen and for the others Brown and Canloff. This afternoon the Evansville and Edgerton teams are playing.

Supply Foreign Stamps. A queer business in New York city is the supplying of current foreign postage stamps to business houses which want to send foreign mail with stamped envelope for returning the answer. Of course Uncle Sam's 50-cent stamp is no good in Sanibel Island, upper Rhodesia or the Falkland Islands, but a stamp of any of these countries of the equivalent value may be had for seven cents by going to one of the shops that sell them.

Why Named. The old-fashioned name of bridegroom was formerly given to the newly married man because it was customary for him to wait at table on his bride and friends on his wedding day.

Building Up Affection. Natural affection offers a fine foundation on which to erect the edifice of a firm and enduring friendship, but it will not rise up itself. We must build it, stone by stone, if we would possess it. If we have a valued and respected friend, what pains we take to cherish his friendship; how carefully we endeavor to prune away from ourselves that which would displease him, and cultivate those qualities which he admires; how we strive

WILLIAM J. BRYAN IS TURNED DOWN

LEADER'S LOCAL OPTION PLANK
VOTED DOWN IN NEBRASKA CONVENTION.

MAKES SPEECH OF HIS LIFE

By Vote of 695 to 195, Democrats Repudiate Old Chieftain After He Makes Bitter Fight in Committee
and on Floor.

Grand Island, Neb., July 27.—No-
braska Democrats repudiated the leadership of their state organization from William J. Bryan when by a decisive vote they registered their unbelief in his county local option plank.

Mr. Bryan had labored hard in the committee in an effort to have his ideas written into the platform, and after being defeated in the committee,
he appealed to the convention and in this appeal made the speech of his life
to a convention already instructed against him.

Pleads With Old Friends.
He pleaded to his old friends,
begged them not to repudiate him unless they found him untrue to Democratic principles; he threatened statewide prohibition if county option was defeated; he denounced those Democrats whom he charged with being

William Jennings Bryan.

subservient to the liquor interests;
and he enjoyed the unqualified de-
clatation to vote for him and his plans.
And then standing aside he listened to the most bitter words directed at him that he has ever heard.

Bryan Bitterly Attacked.
No attack made against Bryan by Republicans or others, in any of his campaigns, was ever so bitter as were the attacks made by Bryan's old friends against their old leader. As a member of the committee on resolutions, Mr. Bryan returned a minority report on the county option plank.
This minority report, signed only by Bryan himself, was short and to the point, saying simply: "We favor county option as the best method of dealing with the liquor question."

Greatest Effort of Life.
It was in defense of this report that Mr. Bryan made the speech which will be called the greatest effort of his life. Throughout the early stages of the convention Mr. Bryan sat with folded arms and tightly closed mouth,
his lips forming a straight cut across his face. The resolution upon which the first test of strength came was one which prevented Bryan from introducing platform resolutions on the floor of the house and debating them
there. The effect was to shut him off to a large extent, from introducing new resolutions while it left him free
to debate those introduced in the committee before the platform was reported to the convention.

Final Vote Taken.
The sentiment towards Bryan was shown when, for more than an hour,
the convention called upon different leaders to address it, but not a single one was made for Mr. Bryan. When the final vote was taken, Bryan's plank was turned down 645 to 195
and a direct anti-county option plank inserted.

GOVERNOR CARROLL OF IOWA.

Des Moines, Iowa.—The Polk county
grand jury has returned an indictment against Gov. H. P. Carroll charging criminal libel. The indictment came as a considerable surprise to the friends of Governor Carroll. The charges are preferred by John Cowles, former member of the state board of

ment on Governor Carroll's gubernmental campaign for reelection. He was nominated for a second term over Warren Garst at the June primaries.
The trial will not take place until September.

The Ticklemouse

—and his Sleepyland Adventures

By Roy Rutherford Bailey with Davy and Dorfy

Jamaica Ginger

NOT a sign of her whereabouts," said the Ticklemouse, turning his searchlight 'on' sleeping
earth in one of her magic spells. When
she's very angry she thumps the earth

"She's gone, all right," said Willy Wishmughouse. "Guess that beach-comber was right about her paddling off in a canoe last night. That must have been within an hour after you folks
got me out of Cocacoon Jail."

"I thought the beachcomber was lying," remarked his uncle. "But if he spoke the truth, she's probably in Jamaica by this time. How's the gasoline?"

"Lots yet," reported Davy, proud to be trusted on an errand like this.
"Tank's more than half full."

"Then look to your pistols, everybody. And, Willy, have that stone ginger jar ready. Dorfy can carry it when we land."

The friends landed on Jamaica's shores not half an hour later. "Moon's
most too bright now," said the Mouse.
"She can see us as easily as we can
her. Got the chloroform safe and sound, Davy? All right—careful, now, that you don't drop it. Wait!"

He threw himself flat on the ground,
his ear to the warm sand. "She's here!"
he whispered in great excitement, pointing to the east. "She's off in that direction—I could hear her striking the earth in one of her magic spells. When

she's very angry she thumps the earth

with her stick and call her enemy's name, and he at once feels sick!"

Willy looked a bit sick himself as the four started eastward. "Oh, you needn't turn pale," the Ticklemouse told him. "She doesn't know your name!"

The old coffee colored witch had taken refuge in a miserable little mud hut down by the seashore. By following the shining beach part way and then swinging around in a circle, they drew near her hut from the land side.
Through one small window they saw her sitting beside a smoldering fire,
though the night was hot.

"Ruck-a-chuck, ruck-a-chuck! Catch him and burn him—burn him in oil!"
muttered the witch to herself, poking
the fire with her stick.

"She's weaving a spell—a bullet wouldn't touch her now!" The Mouse poured the chloroform gently through the window into the hut. A terrific squaling and thrashing about inside told them the old witch was fighting the drug, but soon she was still. It was but a moment's work to tickle her into the store.

"She'll come to, probably, about the time we get home," grinned Willy.
"That's better than shooting her, after all, Uncle Tick. We'll just nibble her bit
by bit, and offer some to our friends.
I'll miss my guess if they'll think they ever tasted a better preserved jar of coffee colored Jamaica ginger!"

WELL PAID FOR TIME AND MONEY SPENT

I have completed a six months'
course in the Shortland Department of the Southern Wisconsin Business College and have found it to be all it was represented.

The instruction given and the methods taught were equally good
and I feel fully repaid for the time and money which I put into it.

No one who wishes a thorough,
practical business training can do better than take a course at this College.
IDA STODDARD.

INTERESTED IN EACH STUDENT

Janesville, Wis.

I am a graduate of the Southern Wisconsin Business College heartily endorse it to anyone who wishes a thorough business education. One appreciates the fact that high standards are maintained when he gets out into the business world. The teachers are men and women of a high character and they have an interest in the student which is not found among all teachers. I am thoroughly satisfied with what the school has done for me.

HELEN L. TRACY.

EACH STUDENT TAUGHT IN- DIVIDUALLY

Orfordville, Wis.

I wish to express my regard for the
S. W. B. C. Its system is excellent, its teachers unsurpassed and its individual instruction enables each student to advance as rapidly as possible.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the S. W. B. C. and those wishing a thorough business or shorthand
training should go there to get it.
ERVING RIME.

RECEIVED HIGH GRADE TRAINING

Miss City, Montana, Dec. 18, 1909.

Three years ago I graduated from your business college, having completed a course in bookkeeping, Charter Shorthand and typewriting. After a year's experience in an office I came to Montana, and have for the past two years had charge of the office
work and correspondence of the Calvin Investment Co., one of the largest real estate firms in the state. I consider the Charter system of shorthand by long odds the best system
in use, because in the matter of speed and accuracy I find that one can easily compete with old and experienced stenographers who use Pitman and Gregg Shorthand. Several months ago I received the appointment of court stenographer in competition with several competent men, but was defeated from serving on account of my age. After three years experience in office work and meeting many experts, I can unhesitatingly endorse your method and system for teaching shorthand and typewriting. I would recommend any young man or woman desirous of entering this field to adopt the Charter system of shorthand and take a course in your school.

Respectfully,
VINCENT W. NORTH.

MADE NO MISTAKE IN SELECTING S. W. B. C.

Afton, Wis.

After I had made up my mind to take a course in shorthand and typewriting, I naturally began looking around for a good school, and I am confident now that I made no mistake when I finally decided to attend
the Southern Wisconsin Business College located at Janesville, Wisconsin.

The proprietor of the school is a gentleman whom it is good to know and he takes a lively interest in his work, being energetic, progressive and up to date in every way. The work of each pupil receives careful attention at his hands and thoroughness of preparation is essential if one would reach the standard of excellence maintained in the school.

I am satisfied that I made no mistake in deciding to attend this school and can cheerfully recommend it to any young man or young woman who may contemplate taking a business course.

Very respectfully,
ULYSSES G. WAITE.

GRADUATES ALWAYS suc- CESSFUL

It gives me much pleasure to testify to the thoroughness and practicability of your college. I attended the school for three months and can fully endorse the efficient methods of instruction carried out. To any desiring to become thorough bookkeepers and stenographers I feel certain they will make no mistake in attending your school as the graduates of the Southern Wisconsin Business College
are always successful.

Yours truly,
MARGARET MAC GREGOR.

CAPABLE AND PRACTICAL TEACHERS

Stoughton, Wis.

I take great pleasure in recommending the Southern Wisconsin Business College to anyone who desires to get a training in, and a knowledge of, business as it is done today. It is an up-to-date institution, the courses are thorough and complete, and in charge of capable and practical instructors.

I attended a few months last winter and am now holding a position with the Rock County Sugar Co. All of the students that attended the same time have secured positions.

Wishing the Southern Wisconsin
Business College every success, I am,
Sincerely,
OSCAR L. OLSON.

Mr. Olson is at present Assistant
Cashier of the Citizens National Bank,
Stoughton, Wis.

HIGH STANDARD AND CONGENIAL SURROUNDINGS

Augusta, Wis.

Having attended the Southern Wisconsin Business College for several months I can frankly say that I found all of the work done there to be on a high standard. The courses of study offered are thorough and practical—the teachers well fitted for their positions, and very eager to do all that is for the student's best good.

The equipment is first class and the atmosphere of the school congenial.
I should not hesitate to advise anyone desirous of obtaining a business education to patronize this institution.

Sincerely,
FLORENCE E. FARNHAM.

A THOROUGHLY FIRST CLASS INSTITUTION

Stoughton, Wis.

It gives me pleasure to be able to say at this time that I have secured
my time to say a good word for the Southern Wisconsin Business College.
Its advantages in the way of building, equipment, and methods cannot be surpassed, the instructors are able
and conscientious, and in every respect this institution is thoroughly
first-class.

I have no hesitancy in recom-
mending the Southern Wisconsin Business College to any one who desires to attend an up-to-date and progressive business college.

Wishing you the best of success
which you certainly deserve, I am,
Yours very truly,
INGERBOR LANGENOE.

AN HONEST AND RELIABLE SCHOOL

Cresco, Iowa.

It is with pleasure that I can recommend the Southern Wisconsin Business College as being an honest reliable institution, in charge of expert business educators whose object is to train each student to be a competent bookkeeper or stenographer.
All graduates are assisted to good positions, and many who do not graduate get good positions. Anyone who is thinking of securing a business education will do well to investigate the merits of the Southern Wisconsin Business College before enrolling elsewhere.

Thanking you for past favors and wishing the S. W. B. C. continued success, I am,
Yours respectfully,
ARTHUR SCOTT.

THE SCHOOL THAT GIVES THOROUGH TRAINING

Whitewater, Wis.

After completing my shorthand
course at this college, I wish to say
I have been so thoroughly trained that I may go out into the world and take a position which I feel capable of holding.

Our teachers are gentlemen of experience who understand what is needed for a practical business training. Their college is situated in a pleasant part of the city, and has the most equipment.

I would advise anyone wishing a business education either as a bookkeeper or stenographer to attend this college as it will put them on the road
to success.

Yours sincerely,
LILLIAN KENNEDY.

COURTEOUSLY TREATED AND FULLY REPAID

After completing my course in your school I wish to express my appreciation of the treatment I have received at your hands. I feel more than fully repaid for the time and money spent in your institution, and I know from my own experience that anyone desiring a shorthand education cannot do better than to take a course with you.

I have been ever treated in a courteous and gentlemanly manner, and in leaving the school wish to thank you for your many favors.

Hoping that you will continue to meet with the success that your efforts deserve, I remain,
Yours truly,
THOMAS CASBY.

THOROUGH AND PRACTICAL COURSES

Janesville, Wis.

After taking a 6 month's course of study in the Southern Wisconsin Business College I take great pleasure in recommending their courses to anyone interested in a practical thorough business or shorthand education. I found the courses up-to-date in every way and taught by competent instructors who were ever ready to advance the interests of the student. I am well satisfied with my treatment
while there and consider my time well spent.

LEWIS G. EHLINGER.

FOUND EVERYTHING AS RE- PRESENTED

Fl. Atkinson, Wis.

I attended the Southern Wisconsin
Business College for five months, taking the Shortland Course. I found the school all that it represents. It is up to date, being up-to-date in every particular. I take pleasure in recommending the Southern Wisconsin Business College to all who are desirous of obtaining a first class business education, for here you find only conscientious teachers who accept nothing but thorough work.

MABEL ASPINWALL.

BOOKKEEPING SAME AS USED IN THE BUSINESS OFFICE

White Earth N. D.

I found the books here kept almost identically as taught in your system.
I shall always look back on the time
I spent in your school as the most pleasant and profitable months in my life. I watch your progress with interest, and I am certain you will achieve the measure of success your efforts deserve.

Your former student,
MARVIN SOLJEN.

PLEASED AND SATISFIED IN EVERY WAY

Beloit, Wis.

Please accept this acknowledgment
for results obtained from your school.
I am in every way pleased and satisfied, and I am sure if the pupil
is willing to do his part he will receive help and encouragement.

Thanking you for the many kindnesses shown me while with you, I am,
An ever interested friend,
MARY E. COOK.

A VALUABLE BOOK FOR WOMEN

Any woman who possesses a volume of "Mrs. Pinkham's Text Book upon the Hygiene of Women" has at hand such information as may save her serious illness or if she is ill, it will give her an intelligent understanding of her case and suggest a cure. This valuable 30 page text book is not an advertising pamphlet, and is only obtainable by mail or at Mrs. Pinkham's Laboratory. It will be mailed in plain envelope absolutely free to any woman who will write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass., asking for it.

You need not suffer from sickness, and you need not fill yourself with drugs in order to be made well.

The great new edition of "Mrs. Pinkham's Text Book upon the Hygiene of Women" has shown the world that in order to be made well and to remain well it is necessary to remove the cause of the ailment and that treating symptoms with medicine is not as practical as the Chiropractic adjustment. Every nerve in the entire body which controls every function and organ of the entire human system and every nerve (counted) in all pass through the spine. When certain nerves do not perform their functions you become sick. The way to remove the cause of the sickness is to get at the nerves that are not working. This is done by Chiropractic adjustment of the spine. Almost every ailment is curable by the Chiropractic science. To get further information of any kind, call for free consultation and advice.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

ON ONE of my friends dressing tables stands a little wooden bank. Every time she says the word "bet" a nickel goes into it.

When she says, "What do you know about that," it thins to the tune of a dime.

Several minor offenses are paid for by pennies. Among them is the use of the word "absolutely." Not that there is anything objectionable in that word. Merely that she has caught herself using it to an absurd degree.

When the bank is as full as it can hold its contents are to go to the Salvation Army.

How does that strike you as a combination of self-improvement and charity?

Probably you don't say "you bet," or "What do you know about that," or "absolutely," but you undoubtedly have some such mannerisms of speech that it would improve you to be rid of.

And maybe you are not a patron of the Salvation Army, but doubtless you can find some other charity that will know how to use your mannerism money.

The bump of observation is one of the most valuable assets for business or professional success that anyone can have.

Do you possess it? If you don't, perhaps you will be interested in a method of acquiring such a bump that a man I know has taken.

Only he calls it "developing my observation muscles."

"About half a dozen times a day when I walk past a shop window, and look in, as everyone does, instead of just glancing casually over it, I make myself try to see and retain just as much as I can."

"Then, when I get past, I try to see how many articles I can remember."

"At first it was only half a dozen, but now I can remember fifteen and twenty, and sometimes a good many more."

"Of course that's conscious observation, but I find it's training me to do a good deal more unconsciously observing, too."

Baby was awful hungry. Indeed he had been crying for his bottle for half an hour before feeding time.

And yet when his mother gave the bottle to him, what do you think the baby did?

Why pushed at it and thrust it away with all the strength of his chubby little hands.

If his mother hadn't held it tight he would surely have pushed that bottle right onto the floor.

"But I thought he was awfully hungry. What makes him push it away?" I asked in wonder.

Baby's mother laughed. "He is hungry. He just doesn't know he is pushing it away," she explained. "He doesn't understand direction very well yet."

Can it be there are some of us who are a bit like great big babies—treat our belongings and the things we really want very much like this little baby did?

I wonder.

THE GREATEST PARTNERSHIP OF ALL.

By MARY HUSSELL.

"How pleasant that man is outside of his home," was remarked of a well known business man not long ago.

He would not believe that any body could say such a thing of him with the implied idea that he was not pleasant in his home, and yet he is the hobby of an otherwise happy family.

The house revolves around that man. The meals are selected to suit his taste. The members of the family choose their clothes with an eye to his satisfaction. The friends that please him are cultivated and invited. The church he attends is the one chosen by the family—at least they think they have chosen it. Even the maid he prefers is retained and the one he dislikes is allowed to go, though she suited the mistress of the house better.

Oh, one need not go to Russia to find sorts in an otherwise free country.

And after all, that man and his family are not happy? What is the matter with them? Why are they not harmonious?

It is not difficult to solve that problem. It is because they are all trying to live on man's life. He has the idea of domination. He is the kind of man who always says "my wife, my house, my child, my garden."

He simply needs to understand that marriage means "one," not "my."

Marriage is the biggest partnership in the world. The silent partner wrecks it either by allowing too much liberty to the leading partner or by not lending the aid of valuable advice in the difficulties that assail all of us in life.

It would take an angel with an understanding and sympathy without fault, to realize all the necessities of heart and soul, of all the members of a family. When one family man attempts to hold down such a job just because he has gone through the marriage ceremony, it goes without saying that he is going to make a failure—though he may be perfectly satisfied that he is a dazzling success, because these about him bend necks to his will.

We hear a great deal about "home-peace," the monkey who allows his wife to dictate to him. We know the weak man of the funny column and ownership of his own garments. It is a present form of cheap wit which has held over from the last decade. But very few of us know such a man.

"The women who hardly dare assert their own individuality in even choosing their own hats, are living in every block. The children who grow up thinking of "mother" as a pretty person because of this lack of self-assertiveness have lost one of the most valuable assets—admiration for mother's strength of character. They may, and probably do, love their mothers for her sweet self-effacement, but that will not be of assistance when advice and decisive action are demanded in the struggles with the problems of life.

What child can respect a slave? And there are many slaves still left in this "land of the free!"

The ideal happiness of life is reached when a man and woman become one in spirit and action. It is not reached when the answer to the query, "which one?" is answered by either the husband's name or that of his wife. It is when they each feel as if they were the problems that come to the solution of another attempts to Feared Many Lives of Tourists and Pleasure Seekers Lost.

London, July 27.—According to reports from Milan received here, several large boats have been wrecked in a storm that has swept Lake Como, and it is feared there has been heavy loss of life.

The lake was dotted with craft—boating tourists and pleasure seekers to the various resorts at the time the storm broke.

Messages from Buda Pest are to the effect that heavy rains have swept over Hungary, and that thirty lives have been lost.

Delight of an Operation.

No wonder women are fond of operations; we heard a woman say the other day that the only really good time she ever had in her life was her experience in a hospital, while recovering from an operation. The nurse waited on her, whereas she had never been waited on before, and good meals were served her while she was lying in bed. Her husband and children took care of themselves, and, altogether, the woman's operation was one of the bright spots of her life.—Aitchison Globe.

"Fermoy, County Cork."

THE CRUISE IS NEAR AN END

PRESIDENT TAFT AND PARTY ARE ENTERTAINED AT ROCKLAND, ME.

WORK AWAITING EXECUTIVE

Mayflower Leaves Penobscot Bay, Anchors at Portland for Night and is Scheduled to Reach Beverly Thursday Afternoon.

Portland, Me., July 27.—President Taft's tour of Maine is practically finished. The Mayflower, with the presidential party aboard, arrived off Portland and anchored in the harbor during the night. The president did not come ashore.

The yacht Mayflower, which anchored off this city last night, today called at Biddeford Pool, where the president and Mrs. Taft spent the day with Professor and Mrs. Moore.

Thursday morning the Mayflower will start back toward Beverly with the president and his party.

Speaks at Rockland.

At Rockland President Taft rebuked the Maine politicians who have been urging him to talk politics by declaring that as president he has no business to mix in political affairs.

The people of Rockland turned out to the number of 1,500 and thronged the prettily decorated streets of the city, which rang with their cheers as the president and his party rode through.

The president delivered a brief address at the public library before a vast crowd.

Predicts Completion of Canal.

He repeated his prediction that the Panama canal will be finished by January 1, 1915, adding, "and I hope some time before, thus doubling the efficiency of our navy and changing the course of trade to our benefit."

It was at this stage that the president, indicating the trend of his thoughts and a knowledge of what had been expected of him, smiled and chuckled, and then said:

"It is a little difficult, when you are thinking politics and having a great deal to do with them, to make a few fluent remarks without running up against them. But the fact is that I am traveling merely as the president of the United States, and I do not believe that I have any right to be other than the president of the whole people and stand on a platform of patriotism, love of country and prosperity for all."

ALWAYS THE WAY.

"How did the meat boycott turn out in your town?"

"It was a fizzle."

"Yet everybody went into it?"

"Yes, but the butcher closed up a side door."

CHAPTER V.

"Evans, S. R."

The car ran silently through the park and out on the broad Sheridan road. Orme put on as much speed as was safe in a district where there were so many police. From time to time the girl indicated the direction with a word or two. She seemed to be using the opportunity to rest, for her breath was labored.

The hour was about eleven, and the streets were as yet by no means deserted. As they swung along Orme was pleased by the transition from the ugliness of central Chicago to the beauty of suburbs—freshly beautiful by night. The great highway followed the lake, and occasionally, above the muffled hum of the motor, Orme could hear the lapping of the waves on the beach.

The girl roused herself. Her bearing was again confident and untired. "Have you been up this way before?" she asked.

"No, girl."

"This is Duena park we are passing now. We shall soon reach the city limits."

Clouds had been gathering, and suddenly raindrops began to strike their faces. The girl drew her cloak most closely about her. Orme looked to see that she was protected, and she smiled back with a brave attempt at cheerful comradeship. "Don't worry about me," she said. "I'm quite dry." With that she leaned back and drew from the tonneau a light robe, which she threw about her shoulders.

The act was an act of partnership merely, but Orme let himself imagine an evidence of solicitude in her thoughtfulness. And then he demanded of himself almost angrily: "What right have I to think such thoughts? She has known me only an hour."

But to him that hour was as a year, so rich was his experience. He found himself recalling her every characteristic expression, her every characteristic gesture. "She has accepted me as a friend," he thought, warmly. But the joy of the thought was modified by the unwelcome reflection that the girl had had no choice. Still, he knew that, at least, she trusted him, or she would never have let him accompany her, even though she seriously needed protection.

They were passing a great cemetery. The shower had quickly ended. The white stones and monuments fled by the car like dim and frightened ghosts. And now the car swung along with fine houses, set back in roomy grounds, at the left, the lake at the right.

"Do you know this city?" the girl asked.

"I think not. Have we passed the Chicago limits?"

"Yes. We are in Evanston."

"Evanston?" Orme had a glimmer.

The girl turned and smiled at him. "Evanston—Sheridan Road."

"Evans—S. R.!" exclaimed Orme.

She laughed a low laugh. "Ah, Monsieur Dupin!" she said.

Speeding along the lake front, the road turned suddenly to the left and went, skirting a large grove of trees which hugged the shore. Just at the turn was a low brick building on the beach. "The life-saving station," explained the girl; "and these are the grounds of the university. The road goes around the campus, and strikes the lake again a mile or more farther."

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Janesville People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, sticky, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's disease, or diabetes. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Janesville proof: "I am J. J. O'Brien, Eastern Ave., Janesville, Wis.," says, "About four years ago I suffered from kidney trouble and felt quite miserable for several weeks. A friend who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with the best of results, advised me to try them and I procured a supply at the People's Drug Co. Less than the contents of three boxes freed me from the annoyance, and I have not had occasion to use a kidney remedy since. I know Doan's Kidney Pills act exactly as represented." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Large buildings were at their right after they turned. Orme noted that they were scattered among the trees—some near the street, some at a distance back. Then the road again turned to the north, at a point where less imposing streets broke in from the west and south.

"Stop at this corner," said the girl. Orme threw on the brakes. "We are in Evanston, on the Sheridan road," she said, "and this street cutting in from the south is Chicago Avenue."

"Chi. A.!" exclaimed Orme. She had taken the paper from the pocket of her coat, and was scanning it closely. "One hundred paces north and two hundred and ten east. 'T' must mean 'tree'."

Orme jumped to the ground. He noticed that the university grounds were cut off from the street by an iron fence. There was a gate at the corner by which they had stopped. The gate was not closed. If it were customary to shut it at night, there had been some neglect on this particular evening.

"You'd better go in through the gate," said the girl, "and follow the west fence northward for 100 paces. Then turn east, at right angles and go 210 paces—I suppose it must be paces, not feet."

"Yes," said Orme. "That would be the natural way for a burglar in a hurry to measure."

"I will move the car north on Sheridan road a little way," she went on, "so as not to be in the glare of this street light."

This was the first evidence she had shown of nervousness, and Orme suddenly realized that enemies might be lurking among the trees.

"It might be well for you to take the electric hand-lamp," she added. "It's in the kit-box, I think."

He looked in the kit-box, but the lamp was not there. He told her so.

"Maku may have stolen it," she said.

Orme slipped a heavy wrench into his pocket and closed the kit-box. With the girl, he avoided any reference to the possible presence of the Japanese among the trees, but knowing that he was no match for them unarmed, with their skill in Judo-ju, he resolved to be in some measure prepared.

He walked through the gate and began to pace northward, keeping close to the fence and counting his steps. Meantime the car followed his course, moving along the side of the road just west of the fence. Orme counted his hundred paces north, then turned east.

He saw that the 210 paces which he now had to take would carry him well over toward the lake. The girl evidently had not realized how great the distance would be. She would be nearer him, if she turned back to the corner and followed the Sheridan road eastward toward the life-saving station, but Orme did not suggest this to her, though the car was within twenty feet of him, the other side of the fence. If there should be a struggle, it would please him just as well that she should be out of hearing, for her anxiety, he knew, was already great, though she kept it closely under control.

Eastward he went through the trees. When he had covered about half the distance he found himself approaching the side of a large building. There must be some mistake. Had he deviated so widely from the course? In leaving the fence he had taken sights as carefully as he could. Then the explanation struck him. Walsh, the burglar, had probably paced in eastward from the fence and come to the building just as he had. There was no good hiding-place apparent near at hand, and Walsh would hardly have retraced his steps. What, then, would he have done? Orme asked himself. Why, he would have turned north or south.

Orme looked in both directions. North and south of the building were open driveways. Walsh must have gone around the building, then continued eastward. This is what Orme now proceeded to do.

Remembering the number of paces to the side of the building, he chose the northward course, because there was less light north of the building. He hugged the side of the building, counting his steps, and, after reaching the corner, turned eastward. He now counted his paces along the northern side of the building.

When he reached the corner of the eastern side of the building, he paced as far southward on the eastern side as he had gone northward on the western side, and on reaching a point due east of the place at which he had originally come to the building, he added the number of paces from the fence to the building to the number of paces he had taken along the northern side of the building, and continued eastward toward the lake.

At the two hundredth pace he stopped to reconnoiter. Not more than two hundred feet ahead of him could see dimly, through the tree trunks, the expanse of the lake.

There was no sound, no evidence that any other person was near.

He proceeded cautiously for ten paces. Many trees were near him. He would have to examine all of them, for it was hardly possible that he had followed Walsh's course with unerring exactness. If the tree was within twenty feet of him north or south, that was as much as he could expect.

One thing was clear to him. Walsh had probably chosen a tree that could easily be distinguished from the others, either by its size or by some peculiarity of form. Also, the tree must have a hollow place in which the envelope could be concealed. Orme now decided that Walsh must have found his tree first and then paced westward to the fence. The even number, 100 paces north from the gate, could be only a coincidence.

A little to his left Orme discovered a trunk much larger than its neighbors. It ran up smoothly about eight feet to the first limb. An agile man could easily get up to this limb and pull himself into the branches. A cavity such as are so common in oaks, would furnish a good place for hiding the envelope away.

He looked up. Suddenly a light appeared among the branches. It was a short ray, striking against the trunk. Before Orme could realize what was happening a hand appeared in the little bar of radiance and was inserted apparently into the trunk of the tree. A moment later it was withdrawn. It held an oblong of white.

Involuntarily Orme took a step forward. A twig cracked under his foot. Instantly the light went out.

Orme drew the wrench from his pocket and stood tense. There was no other tree close enough for the man above him to spring to its branches. He would have to drop near Orme.

Standing there, the wrench in his hand, Orme felt that the advantage was his. He heard rustlings in the branches above his head and kept himself alert to guard against the man dropping on his shoulders. To strike the Japanese down as he dropped from the tree, that was his plan. But meantime, where was the other Japanese? Was he among the near shadows? If so, he might even now be creeping stealthily toward Orme. The likelihood of such an attack was disconcerting to think of. But as Orme was wondering about it, it occurred to him that the man in the tree would not have gone on guard so quickly, if his confederate were near at hand. It was natural that he should have put the light out, but would he not immediately afterward have given some signal to the friend below? And would he not take it for granted that, were a stranger near, his watcher would have managed to give warning? No, the other Japanese could not be on guard.

Perhaps, thought Orme, only one of them had come on this quest. He hoped that this might be the case. He could deal with one.

The man in the tree was taking his own time to descend. Doubtless he would await a favorable moment, then alighting on the ground as far from Orme as possible, make off at top speed.

But now, to Orme's surprise, a figure swung from the lower branch apparently without haste. Once on the ground, however, the stranger leaped toward Orme.

An intuition led Orme to thrust out his left arm. It was quickly seized, but before the assailant could twist it, Orme struck out with the wrench, which was in his right hand. Swift though the motion was, his opponent threw up his free arm and partly broke the force of the blow. But the wrench reached his forehead nevertheless, and with a little moan, he dropped to the ground in a heap.

As Orme knelt to search the man, another figure swung from the tree and darted northward, disappearing in the darkness. Orme did not pursue—it was useless—but a sickening intuition told him that the man who had escaped was the man who had the envelope.

He struck a match. The man on the ground was moving uneasily and moaning. There was a scar on his forehead. It was Maku.

He went through the unconscious man's pockets. There was no envelope such as he was looking for, but he did find a folded slip of paper which he thrust into his own pocket. A discovery that interested him, though it was not now important, he made by the light of a second match. It was the marked five-dollar bill. He would have liked to take it as a souvenir, if for no other reason, but Maku was short and Maku, who evi-

"The Peculiar Business"

In every city in every town wherever there is business and where daily advertising is used you hear the remark "well I know that advertising pays, but this is a peculiar business."

The well known Bugbear as it is—and the standing joke among advertising men—is not a good excuse for not advertising—Every business is peculiar unto itself and every business man knows it. The reason one advertises and the other does not is because one is a "live" one, the other is not. One business will stand the test of advertising and WIN. Another business man dare not give his business publicity. No two businesses, even of the same nature are conducted alike.

The real point to consider is "How does my business differ" and how can I adopt advertising to it so as to make the difference show to best advantage. Here is food for thought. If you cannot solve the problem maybe we can.
